What to Do

Stay Calm and In Control! Have pen and paper out.

Only Crack Your Car Window – enough that you can hear them and they can hear you – enough to hand them your ID, this card, insurance, etc.

Respectfully, Invoke Your Rights. Use sir or ma'am, if you must speak. "Sir, I Choose to Remain Silent". Don't just wait, ask, "Sir, Am I Free to Go?" "Sir, I DO NOT Consent to any Searches." "I Want to See My Lawyer."

If the officer continues to ask you questions, "Sir, what is your name and badge #?" Write everything down.

When an Officer asks you to do something, always come back with, "Are you asking me, or are you ordering me?" If the officer is evasive, ask again. An officer who orders sufficient movement through a show of authority may cause a de facto arrest, which can be unlawful absent probable cause. (Leads to potential suppression of evidence and civil remedies).

Record everything (video and audio). Passengers, "I choose to remain silent; I do NOT consent to search."

If contraband is in plain sight, this allows them to search you or your car without a warrant.
